

GRAIN SHORTAGE KEEPS DOWN GRAIN EXPORTS

Shipments to Allies 5,000,000 Bushels a Month Under Requirements

JUST TIGHTEN BELT

Little Relief From U-Boat Menace Can Be Expected Before August

WASHINGTON, March 7.—Due chiefly to lack of tonnage, American shipping is in a vital condition for the Allies at the rate of 5,000,000 bushels a month.

The situation is giving food administration officials concern now that the question of rail movement of foodstuffs is being solved. Most shipments are reduced to make way for wheat, troops and supplies.

The submarine continues to wreck havoc on shipping. It is a vital condition for the Allies for the next few months, as evidenced by Sir Eric Geddes's suggestion that it will be some time before the American ship output will be enough to make destruction and production equalize.

That there has been too much emphasis on American prospects is hinted in Geddes's comment about "glowing reports" from the American press, while officials here admit that the expectations of the United States have been over-estimated. America will have to take a pinch in the belt for the next few months.

It will be August before many of the shipyards are running full tilt, as some of the eastern plants are still under construction. On the west coast it is estimated that July will see the plants going at a maximum.

LOSSES DOUBLE NEW SHIPS

Officials figures show that England last year constructed 1,100,000 gross tons of shipping, the United States 1,634,000 and other countries 709,000. In that period Germany sank estimated tonnage of 4,000,000 gross.

American ship production this year has been estimated as high as 6,000,000 tons, but the best obtainable estimates now indicate that two and a half to three million tons will be the mark. English figures are not obtainable here, though estimates place her output at 2,500,000 gross tons this year.

Thus it will be seen that submarine destruction in the past year would still outstrip the production.

The foregoing gives perhaps the gloomy side of the picture. It is a situation full of trouble and one which only time will change. England's labor shortage in shipyards is hampering the production, and the American labor problem is a difficult one. Unskilled labor has to be mixed with skilled. And there is a heavy output. One plant had a 1400 per cent overrun this winter.

To offset this shifting of labor, officials say, a standard wage must be adopted. And labor must be inspired with the thought that its task is every bit as important as the front-line trench-work.

SAMMEES' RIFLE FIRE DISPERSES GERMANS

Strong Enemy Raiding Party Is Beaten Off in New Lorraine Sector

HUN LOSSES ARE HEAVY

By HENRI BAZIN

WASHINGTON, March 7.—Premier Orlando's recent speech in the Italian Senate was remarkable for its declaration of the international policy of Italy, according to official communications from Rome this afternoon. In political circles, the dispatches add, the first stand of the Government in declaring the explicit solidarity of Italy in favor of other nationalities subject to Austria was commended. Orlando is quoted as saying Italy is pursuing her essential aim and securing her protection on land and sea.

It is important, therefore, said Orlando, that we should have as neighbors friendly people in sympathy with our institutions and civilization.

Orlando, according to the dispatches, also stressed the necessity of eliminating the misunderstandings which were created by Austria in order to foment anxiety between Italy and the Slav races. He further stated that the efficiency of the German military machine and the Russian peace had been taken into account long ago by Italy.

The raid occurred early Tuesday morning and resulted in the imprisonment of the boche forces, despite their superior numbers. The American loss was insignificant, the boche loss being far greater. Preceding the raid, the enemy's barrage consisted of shells, a small enemy attacking party, when a few were either killed or wounded by a shell striking fair on the abut.

There have been other instances since the American occupation of this sector in conjunction with the French demonstrating the true spirit of the United States troops. On the night of February 23 a small enemy attacking party was driven off at our rifle fire. On February 15 five enemy planes hovered over our trenches and fired their machine guns. They were gloriously driven off by our own machine guns.

On March 4 an American patrol in No Man's Land approached the enemy wire and discovered a boche patrol approaching. The Americans dropped their shells and cut loose at the passing boches, killing two and capturing two others who had been wounded. The remainder of the barbarians ran. The American party totaled fifteen.

On the same date an enemy plane, seeking to attack the American trenches, was brought down by French anti-aircraft guns. On No Man's Land and killing both occupants.

An American artilleryman repairing telephone wires the same day had his wires torn out of his hands by a shell fragment, but he was uninjured. He calmly resumed his work and successfully completed it. He has been cited in a French army order, meaning that the War Cross will be awarded him. Before the war is over it looks as if a special ship will be required to carry home the crosses earned by the American soldiers.

In their attempted raid yesterday morning the boches consisted of two parties, coming from two directions. They were thoroughly repulsed by our machine-gun and rifle fire, and retreated hastily, leaving their losses in No Man's Land.

During the night of March 3 three boche raids were attempted on the French lines, but all resulted in the enemy's defeat, despite hand-to-hand fighting. The boches lost prisoners as well as killed and wounded. The American artillery took part in the barrage upon the demoralized retreating Germans. The general in command of the French army with which these troops are "top-training" has sent the American field commander his personal congratulations upon the behavior of the Americans. If the stuff shown thus far at three different points on the front by United States troops is any criterion of future happenings when the National Army is on the job, then good-by boche and Prussianism, and a victory for the Allies in the field is certain.

The otherwise placid surface of the annual meeting of stockholders of the Baldwin Locomotive Works, held today at the offices of the company, Broad and Spring Garden streets, was ruffled by various objections to the method of according representation to holders of common stock. The objections, which came from John M.
